3.4.1 Outcome of Extension Activities are carried out in the neighbourhood community, sensitizing students to social issues, for their holistic development and impact thereof during the last five years.

The institute organizes several extension activities promoting the institution neighbourhood community to sensitize the students towards community need. The students of our Institute actively quotients eventually resulting in their overall development.

The Institute undertakes various extension activities in the neighbor community. The DLLE organizes several activities where they address social issues which include cleanliness, tress plantation, environmental awareness, women empowerment, national integrity, career guidance, aids awareness though workshop.

In addition to moulding the student's academic and professional future, higher education institutions play a significant role in helping them to be responsible, compassionate and socially conscious adults. Committing to community involvement and outreach initiative is one way to achieve this. These programs not only help the neighborhood, but they also give students a chance to gain practical ,experience and develop a deep understanding of the problems and need in their community.

The establishment of a solid interaction between the student body and the surrounding community is highly valued by our Institute. To the end, we have launched several extension programs designed to make our students aware of and motivated to engage with community issues.

'Persainna' is one of our Institutes longest-running and most successful extension initiatives. This program invites family, staff, and students to work together on a range of community service projects. Among these initiatives are the clean-up of public areas, health and hygiene seminars and the planning of educational events for less fortunate children. Students who actively participate in these activities understand the value of giving back to the community and acquire a feeling of responsible for others who are less fortunate.

In addition to Community Service Day, our Institute encourages students to volunteer their time and abilities throughout the year. We have partnered with neighbourhood non-profits and educational institution to give students the chance to teach, mentor, and guide.

Aside from these activities, our institute encourages students to organize their own community-focused projects and events. This empowers students to take responsibility of their participation in solving community problems. These students – led activities vary from organizing heath camps to skill development seminars to social awareness campaigns.
